WE HOPE

At National Jewish Health, the nation's leading respiratory hospital, we breathe hope.

For 123 years, our personalized care and innovative treatments for respiratory, cardiac, immune and related disorders have transformed the lives of millions of patients and families.

Help us breathe hope. Your donation can help fund research and care for those with respiratory illnesses.

Breathing Science is Life.TM

Dear Friends:

Thank you for being a part of the Breath of Life New York Golf Tournament benefiting National Jewish Health. Your support of our leading-edge research and clinical care programs is more vital than ever as we remain at the forefront to defeat the ever-evolving COVID-19 pandemic and help those affected restore their health. No other institution in the world has been better prepared and equipped to make seminal advances in COVID-19 testing, novel treatments and research. For example, our Center for Post-COVID Care and Recovery is caring for many patients who face ongoing challenges as they recover from COVID-19, including those who have long-term, debilitating symptoms for many months after being diagnosed.

At the same time, our world-class clinicians and researchers remain laser-focused on developing innovative cures and treatments — whether it's helping an asthmatic child breathe easier or pioneering a new therapy for patients with complex immune disorders.

Further cementing our ability to provide unrivaled patient care, our state-of-the-art, 230,000-square-foot Center for Outpatient Health opened this past fall. The lung, heart, immune and related disease diagnostic and treatment center enhances our ability to serve children and adults from Colorado and across the nation. The Center also enables us to increase the number of patients we enroll in clinical research trials of new medicines, with the goal of developing better treatments for patients worldwide.

To learn more about our work, visit njhealth.org or contact your regional National Jewish Health office. And, if you would like to see first-hand why we are ranked as a leading respiratory hospital for the last 25 years by U.S. News & World Report, we invite you take a personal, Behind the Scenes® tour. Arrangements can be made by contacting us at 212.297.0857.

On behalf of our dedicated Board of Directors, Council of National Trustees, faculty, staff and the patients and families we serve, thank you for joining us at the Breath of Life New York Golf Tournament. We welcome your participation in other events locally and across the country. For an events calendar, visit njhealth.org/events. Best regards.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Thank you for being a part of the Breath of Life New York Golf Tournament benefiting National Jewish Health, the leading respiratory hospital in the nation.

If you've joined us in the past, you are familiar with the work of this world-renowned institution. If you aren't familiar with this medical center located in Denver, it is the only institution dedicated exclusively to the research and treatment of respiratory, cardiac, immune and related diseases. They are known for their groundbreaking work in the understanding and care of severe asthma, COPD, food allergies and other devastating diseases, including COVID-19 and long-COVID.

The world-renowned experts at National Jewish Health work every day to make big discoveries with big impact, and they never lose sight of what is most important: saving and improving lives through a model of care that is collaborative, compassionate and precise. Your support of the Breath of Life New York Golf Tournament enables them to continue this work.

Again, thank you to all of the supporters, and to all of you who were able to join us today.

With gratitude,

Since 1899, National Jewish Health has served as a beacon of hope for millions of children and adults worldwide who suffer from respiratory, cardiac, immune and related diseases.

Our multi-disciplinary approach, where physicians and researchers collaborate across specialties, is what enables us to make the correct diagnosis the first time. It also makes us uniquely equipped to treat the wide array of symptoms of COVID-19 and long-COVID.

People come from around the world to our main health campus, our 25 locations across Colorado, and our Respiratory Institutes® in Denver, New York and Philadelphia for our unsurpassed excellence in patient care and research. And in FY21, we provided $42.5 million in charity and subsidized care to patients from across the country.

Throughout our history, National Jewish Health researchers have made numerous groundbreaking discoveries, including IgE, the molecule responsible for allergic reactions; the T-cell receptor gene, which triggers an immune response; the genetic roots of pulmonary fibrosis (scarring in the lungs); and more. Our list of accomplishments and our reputation has kept us at the top of the U.S. News & World Report Best Hospitals list since the magazine started ranking pulmonology 25 years ago. In the 2021-22 Best Hospitals for Common Care category, our COPD, Lung Cancer Surgery and pneumonia programs were rated “high performing,” the highest rating available. In addition, we are one of the country’s leading recipients of research funding from the National Institutes of Health (NIH), which is impressive for an institution of our size and budget.

National Jewish Health is also the only medical campus in the country with a school for chronically ill children. Morgridge Academy is a free, K-8 school for children diagnosed with diseases, including severe asthma and allergies, cystic fibrosis and immune deficiencies, including HIV/AIDS.

This level of excellence in patient care and research goes well beyond the walls of National Jewish Health. Whether you live in Denver, Las Vegas, New York or London, our research benefits you and your family — even if you never come here for care.
